

IF A COP CALLS FOR MONEY, IT'S NOT A COP IT'S A CON.

The NYPD never solicits charitable donations.

- New Yorkers have been conned out of millions of dollars by telemarketers who falsely claim to be soliciting donations on behalf of the NYPD.
- They imply that their donations will be used to support the NYPD or help widows and children of slain officers.
- They might offer a police decal or similar item implying special police treatment.
- If you receive a call, write down as much information as possible, ask for written material and report them to:

NYPD Internal Affairs Bureau 212-741-8401

You don't have to give your name.

PLEASE NOTE: The New York City Police Foundation is the only approved fund-raising organization for the NYPD. For information, call (212) 751-8170 or visit nycpolicefoundation.org
